El Coquí

Puerto Rican Children's Song arr. Carlos E. Rivera-Aponte

This lilting melody is a song about the Puerto Rican coqui, a tiny tree frog with a high-pitched voice that 'sings' from dusk till dawn. The music is accented with shakes, thumb damps, and martellatos, and uses the full range of bells to create an appealing arrangement of the traditional melody. The new 5 octave version is compatible with the original 3 octave version for massed ringing events.

Gopak

(Ukrainian Folk Dance)

Modeste Moussorgsky arr. Lee J. Afdahl

The title Gopak originated as a dance among the Cossack male dancers but evolved into a variety of mixed groups, and is known as the National Dance of Ukraine. The original name Hopak "and the corresponding exclamation 'hop!' is said during a jump or as an expression of surprise."

In Total Amazement

James S. Bawden

The composer writes: "This unique and fun piece was inspired by the dedicated musicians of RiverBend Bronze. In rehearsal, I was 'in total amazement' with their intensity and skills and mused that I should write a piece with that title! One of the ringers shouted, 'Please do!' So I did."

An Irish Lullaby

Old Irish Folk Tune

arr. Billy Brandt

This sweet Irish tune has been sensitively arranged beginning with singing bells and flute solo. If flute is not used, then the piece may begin with bells in m. 11. The melody is supported by LV passages and dynamic expressions including gentle tempo alterations and nuances.

Musings

(reflection and contemplation)

Betty B. Radford

This original composition is dedicated to Fred A. Merrett. The various 'moods' of the piece are beautifully formed to support and showcase the lovely, lyrical melody. Betty's gift for creating this beautiful music shows her loving regard for Fred Merrett's life and all he shared with the world through handbells.

Nollirac Carillon

Fred Gramann

Nollirac Carillon! What an interesting title ... is there a cathedral called 'Nollirac' somewhere, one wonders? Well – only in the fertile and creative mind of Fred Gramann! From Fred's program notes: "The word nollirac is carillon spelled backwards. This is reflected in the music by certain motifs being first heard backwards and then forward." This exciting original work will challenge and delight the most accomplished groups.

The Roar of Storms

Matthew Compton

“This is a programmatic work inspired by the writings of Scottish-American naturalist John Muir, who would frequently write in vivid descriptions about his experiences, what he saw, and what he felt when in nature.” Matthew drew from some of Muir’s writings as inspiration for this amazing work which is melodic, lyrical, tender, dynamic, and filled with expression and nuance.

The Turtle Dove

alt. title: The Beloved's Promise

Folk Ballad

arr. Billy Brandt

This lovely English folk song tells the story of love, longing, and nostalgia - very human emotions we all feel at times. This gentle setting features bells, handchimes, and flute all sharing the melody and the interplay among those voicings is lovely. The alternate title - “The Beloved’s Promise” - relates to Psalms 74:19-20 making it a lovely piece for worship.

a ni sogoma

Tyleen Stults

This original work has an engaging melody shared by handbells and handchimes and featuring malleted notes and mart-lifts with nicely-placed LV passages. Tyleen incorporated djembe rhythms from West Africa, using one main rhythm that historically announced the arrival of the king: a ni sogoma. Dynamics and tempo changes enhance the rhythmic effect.

Be Still My Soul

FINLANDIA (Jean Sibelius)

arr. Hart Morris

Hart Morris has created a truly gorgeous, sensitive, and creative setting of Sieblius' Finlandia for handbells and cello. It begins with the solo melody line played by the cello with handchimes and then handbells subtly joining in a gentle and engaging interplay, which leads to a key change where the full hymn is first rung.

Music on the Theme of Love

Brian Childers

Brian created this lovely original piece based on the word LOVE. He assigned musical notes to each letter:

L = E, O = D, V = A, E = B.

It a sweet, peaceful work with interesting developments featuring LV, gentle mallets, a few vib., nicely placed dynamics, and occasional Shakes for a bit of drama. It is such a lovely work and will fit beautifully in any worship or concert setting - without changing the title!

Star of Wonder

KINGS OF ORIENT (John Henry Hopkins, Jr.)

arr. Jeffrey A. White

This Christmas carol was written by John Henry Hopkins, Jr. in 1857 and has the distinction of being regarded as the 'first widely popular Christmas carol written in America.' Composed in 6/8 time, it lends itself nicely to a jazzy 5/4 time signature; however, Jeff has interjected 3/4, 4/4, and 6/4 for added interest.

Gethsemane Reflections

James S. Bawden

The composer was inspired to create this simple yet powerful music to “take the listener” to the Garden of Gethsemane with an attitude of prayer and reflection. The stark, sonorous chords and musical lines using both bells and handchimes convey a sense of passion and angst while a thread of hope is apparent throughout. How Great Thou Art

Stuart K. Hine

arr. Pam Gervais

arr. for handbells by Linda Boatright

This wonderful song had its beginnings in southern Sweden in the 1880s. A member of Swedish parliament, Carl Boberg, and friends were returning from an afternoon service when a thunderstorm arose. They were in awe of the strong wind, lighting, and thunder - followed by God’s promise: a rainbow. Pam Gervais created a stunning piano arrangement and Linda Boatright has beautifully transcribed that for handbells.
